“ Rick was a larger than life kind of guy I first met in college and got the chance to reconnect to through mutual friends later in life. His quick witt and sense of humor is something you could always count on to make you laugh. He loved to spar about the wildcats and cardinals with the best of ‘em. He was a huge contributor to many charitable organizations through his tireless support and work on the Unbridled Eve committee. His stature was large but his heart was larger. Rest easy Rick. My deepest condolences to his best friend and wife, Tracy and his family who share his memory.

“ Working with Rick was always a joy. He had such a big heart and kind soul. He definitely had the gift of bringing people and groups together to work for common goals. We spoke often on the phone, mostly of family and current events, and some good times we had at SWS. He was a big man, but his big heart is what I will always remember. God Bless you Rick

“ I met Rick several years ago at an Unbridled Eve meeting and we instantly hit it off. His dry, witty and sometimes irreverent sense of humor meshed well with mine. He was a great man that with an incredible sense of humor. I will miss him.

“ Rick and his wife Tracy are such wonderful people!! I have always looked forward to coming to town and seeing the two of them. One of my very first memories of being welcomed into Louisville was Rick taking time to drive and pick me up in Cincinnati. I loved that drive in with him and knew I had made a wonderful new friend. Every year we would sit together at Unbridled Eve and catch up on our lives. I will miss Rick Campbell. He truly is such a kind and good person. Rest peacefully my friend. BG

“ We have worked together for many years. Over the years we became friends who helped each other through the good times and the bad. He always had a shoulder to lean on and a sarcastic remark to make you smile! He will never be forgotten, he was like family. I pray that Tracy and family find the strength to get through the coming days ahead. He will truly be missed by many.

“ Rick was more than a friend, he was family to us. We will never forget his kindness, his willingness to help others, his loyalty to friends and their children. His sarcasm was unmatched, and personality always lightened the mood. He knew how to make you laugh and yell. Tailgating will never be the same, he was our biggest and best Wildcat. We love you Rick!

See you in Heaven Teddy Bear.
